THE SOHO COLLECTION EPITOMISED

The Soho Collection epitomises desirability and style. Handcrafted with meticulous attention to detail, the Collection redefines the standards of elegance, allowing it to make a bold statement in any architectural setting.

Comprised of External and Internal Doors and Windows, the Collection's ethos is all about balancing a stunning industrial design with unparalleled levels of performance. This combination ensures your home gets it all - expansive glass panels for maximum light, optimal thermal efficiency, elite levels of security and remarkable aesthetics.

Engineered to perform flawlessly for decades to come, our aluminium is only of the highest-grade. It is not only strong, secure, and stunning, but is also able to accommodate large complex layouts and configurations.

SECURITY

BEYOND EXPECTATIONS

Both the Soho External Door and Window comply and exceed all required security accreditations, including PAS 24.

In addition to security being an integral design priority for our in-house Research and Development team, safety also plays a pivotal role. Finger safe gaskets, magnetic catches and optional door restrictors are all offered to keep the family out of harm's way.

STEEL-STYLE MEETS THERMAL EFFICIENCY

Given products connect your world to the natural one outside, we want to do all that we can to protect both spaces, for current and future generations. The Soho Collection has been engineered with unparalleled thermal efficiency to help minimise your energy bills. With unrivalled thermal performance far exceeding British Building Regulation requirements, the Soho Collection can achieve U-Values as low as $0.78 \text{ W/m}^2\text{K}$.

HUES, UNRIVALLED FINISH

Every aspect – from start to finish – is undertaken by us in our state-of-the-art facility here in the UK. Not only will we use the highest-grade aluminium to craft your frames, but we also powdercoat them in-house too. Using a 10-stage pre-treatment cleaning process (the industry standard is between 5-7), we ensure the frame's surface is smooth and primed before applying your chosen colour and finish. It's a difference you can see and feel, and you won't get that anywhere else.

With over 150 different RAL colours to choose from, including textured and dual-coloured options, we have a colour palette that's guaranteed to inspire.

INNATE STRENGTH

INSIDE YOUR HOME

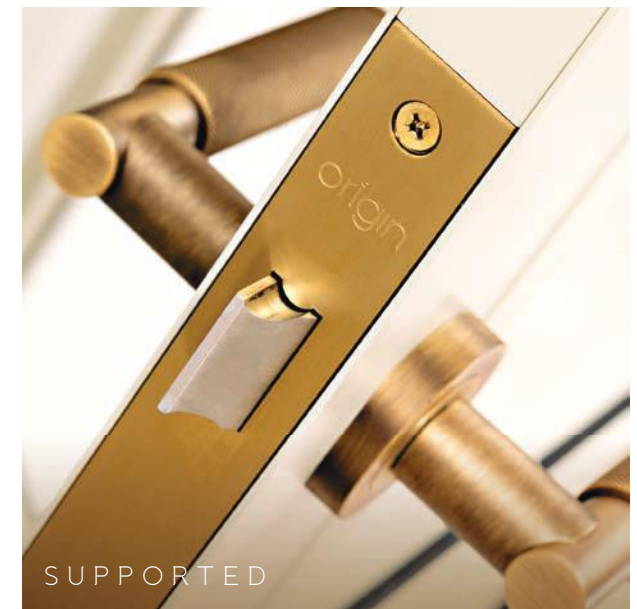

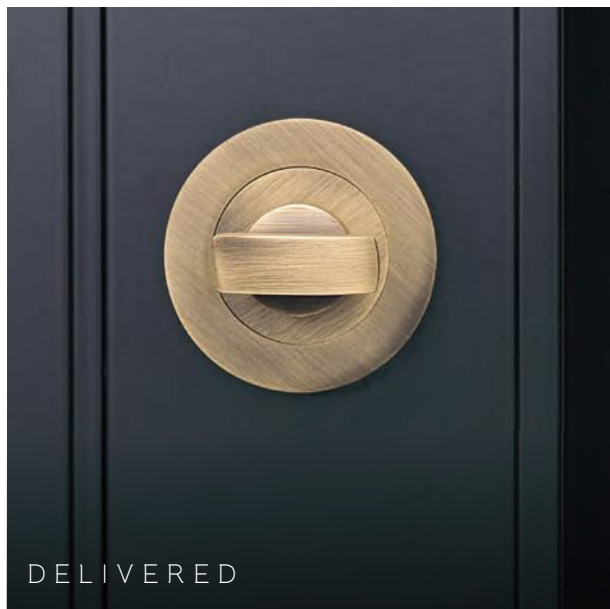

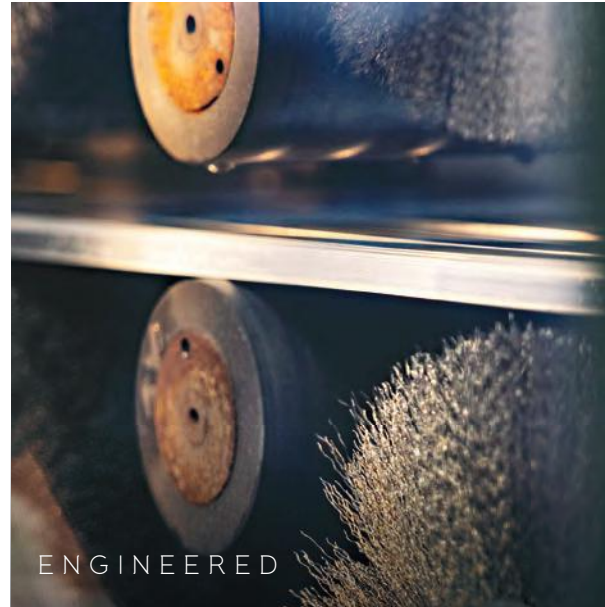

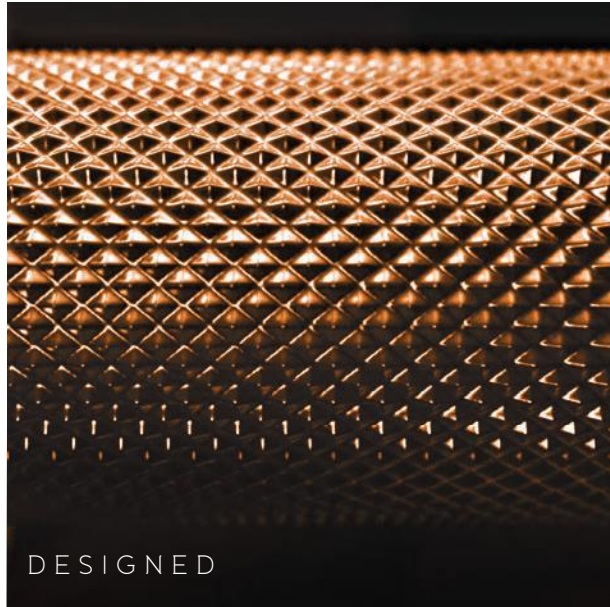

It would not be possible to create slimline steel-look glazed systems with anything other than the highest-grade aluminium.

Weighing 67% less than steel, its innate strength supports large expanses of glass for maximised views. It's the combined quality, strength and dependability that aluminium brings that allows Origin to provide such long guarantees.

Additionally, while we deliver on style, aesthetics, and performance, we cannot forget our responsibility to the environment.

We are constantly reviewing and refining our processes to ensure that we are doing things in the right way, and that customers can buy from us with a clear conscience. ISO 14001 gives you the reassurance that we are acting ethically, legally, are environmentally aware and exercise best practice in all that we do.
